You can make a difference! Parents of John Hay Elementary students in Queen Anne are planning an auction to raise funds for vital programs that are no longer funded by the Seattle School District.

Our parent-powered auction committee hopes you will join us in our effort to keep important programs available to all students. Money raised will be used for reducing class-size, math intervention, literacy programs, Math and Reading Specialists, music, art, sports equipment and more. More than ever, we must rely on you to continue to support our children and their future.

Your sponsorship not only supports our students, it provides valuable recognition for your company as well. John Hay families live in, or very near, the neighborhood in which you do business. Your message will reach current and future customers. We strongly encourage John Hay families to patronize businesses that support our fundraising efforts.
